MCoE Commanding General's Vision, Mission, Key Tasks

Vision: An MCoE team that is adaptive and innovative, preserves our warrior ethos, and ensures that our Army's maneuver forces will overmatch the enemy and accomplish the mission in current and future wars.

Mission: The Maneuver Center of Excellence provides trained, agile, adaptive and ready Soldiers and Leaders for an Army at war, while developing capabilities for the Maneuver Force and the individual Soldier and providing a world-class quality of life for our Soldiers.

MCoE Key Tasks

- Develop agile and adaptive leaders, committed to the Army Profession, who possess the knowledge, skills, abilities, and attributes to win on complex battlefields.

“We may be caught in the irony that at the very moment when by our wit we have developed the means to give us considerable control over our resistant natural environment we find we have produced in the means themselves an artificial environment of such complication that we cannot control it.

Put even more simply, as the mechanism steadily increases in power and scale, the tendency is to fit men into the machinery rather than to fit the machinery into the contours of a human situation.”

- Elting E. Morison, Men, Machines, and Modern Times, 1968
